Business Partnership Form:

Trees for the Future Inc. is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that plants trees in developing countries around the world. Businesses are finding value in forming partnerships to support our tree planting work, so we have created 3 different types of partnerships with which they may work with Trees for the Future. If these do not suit your needs, please contact us to learn how we can help create custom partnerships.

These partnerships include:

- Plant-a-Tree Partnership- In these partnerships businesses will commit to plant a tree, or a certain number of trees for every product they sell, service they provide, or any other quantifiable basis on which they choose to make a contribution. In this type of partnership, the business which plans to plant trees with Trees for the Future will be responsible for accounting for the amount of trees they have pledged to plant in their promotion/campaign, and then send a check for that amount of trees to Trees for the Future at the rate of 10 cents per tree (US$0.10).
- Global Cooling Business™- In these partnerships, businesses pledge to plant enough trees annually to offset their annual Carbon Dioxide emissions, which are calculated using the US EPA carbon calculator, in conjunction with any additional calculations that may be necessary for the specific business. Once the amount of CO₂ has been determined, the business can offset this amount by planting trees through Trees for the Future. We have calculated that a tree can sequester roughly 50 lbs of CO₂ per year. The calculations are available on our website.
- Trees for Travel- Businesses linked to the travel industry often choose to purchase $1 certificates (in increments of $50) to offset the carbon output from their client's travels. By giving these certificates to their clients, they can highlight the business's dedication to combating climate change and environmental degradation.

By electing to participate in one of these partnerships, businesses agree to provide notice to Trees for the Future Inc. of any mention of Trees for the Future Inc. that they will use in their promotions. This notice can be provided via email to partnerships@treesfff.org.

How did you find out about Trees for the Future and our business partnerships?
Countries/regions of interest:
*Businesses who contribute $500.00(US) annually are eligible to be featured on our partnerships page which will include a brief description of your company with your logo and a link to your website from ours. For larger partnerships, it is possible to create customized marketing and promotional opportunities, such as a custom landing page on www.plant-trees.org which will provide specific details about the partnership. Please call us or email partnerships@treesfff.org for more information.

Becoming a partner requires the participating businesses to communicate all aspects of the partnership to Trees for the Future Inc. and in turn Trees for the Future Inc. will provide information to businesses regarding the projects they are supporting. Any use of Trees for the Future Inc.'s language, photos, and marketing materials must first obtain express written consent from Trees for the Future Inc.
